Notice

All students of BUFT should note that COVID 19 has disrupted our normal course of life and especially how it affected the course of education of students of all levels in the country. Realizing the potential loss, educational institutions in all countries, where ever the pandemic had hit, quickly decided to switch to online courses. Bangladesh was no exception.

The Ministry of Education, University Grants Commission and the Association of Private Universities in Bangladesh issued circulars with instructions and guidelines on how to run online education in private universities. Accordingly, following the instructions and guidelines, BUFT has developed its system and programs to conduct online classes.

Unfortunately, in course of conducting the online classes it has been observed that a number of students had failed to understand the importance of conducting online classes, which however, might cause some inconveniences at places and for some students, but is a good alternative to passing idle time and risking for unwanted session jams.

Study at home online saves time and also money because students are not required to come to the campus and they live with their family. We do prefer on campus teaching and learning but we cannot run it now.

Given the circumstances we urge all students to attend online classes. Meanwhile, BUFT administration is working on how to address the problems that have some solutions within scope and resources.
